What's New In?

DDNS Updater is a robust solution, that updates your domain name's IP address with the current network parameters. It can perform the verification and update operations automatically or manually. The latter allows you to update information with one click, without having to enter the Username or password information. The update operations are made possible with DDNS services. You may download the application for free and use it without any obligations. Features: The software is compatible with the major operating systems, as well as various browsers. There is no need to install additional plugins or plug-ins. You can check the current IP address from the location bar in your browser. If a new IP address is available, the software will replace the outdated information in your DNS account and allow you to access the current IP address. If you require a more precise change, then you can also specify the corresponding IP address in the Hostname text box. Moreover, you may also enter the URL of the IP address, if you do not want to change the address for the specified name. The program can be used with the Dynamic Domain Name System to update information on a regular basis. The software allows you to specify the time interval, in minutes, for the update operations. It can also automatically verify the input URL for the external IP address and compare it to the current IPv4 or IPv6 parameters. If the returned values match, then the information is up to date. If they differ, the software can proceed to updating the information in the DNS account. The information of the specific DDNS service can be verified or updated. You need to specify a time interval, in minutes, for the URL verification. DDNS Updater can poll the provided URL at the given interval and check if the IP address has changed or not. Moreover, you can enter a value in the Force Update field, thus prompting the software to update the information on demand, every few hours. You may save the activity log in a local file and email notification messages can be sent, as long as you enter the SMTP server address, port, username, password and the email address. Moreover, you may specify an email subject, to be used with all received messages, for easy sorting.
