Resistance to Fasciola hepatica in two flocks of Merino x Scottish blackface sheep was determined by identification of hybrids from a lambing block. The flocks were free from condemnation of liver flukes (Fasciola hepatica) in sheep. In one flock from the north of Queensland (the Lily Downs flock) each lamb and adult ewe was tested for resistance to a juvenile isolate of F. hepatica from that flock. In the other flock (the Devine River flock) each lamb was tested for resistance to a juvenile isolate of F. hepatica from Queensland and New South Wales. The mean percentages of the susceptible genotype (S) in the Lily Downs flock were: F1 crosses from c. 30% (sheep of

Eka Kurniawan, the author of the novel Cantik Itu Luka, is a well-known literary illustrator and caricaturist, known for his “Benda Alam Gema”, and his parody style. He has been an integral part of the scene, creating controversial works that have always been “problematic” and been on a wide variety of subjects, including politics, religion, philosophy and the arts. Although he is known for his satirical style, and his viewpoints and theories are not always the same as his fictional characters, he has an incredibly strong sense of identity and personal values. He has lived in a number of places throughout his life, including Indonesia, Japan, and South Korea, and the place that truly sparks his creativity is perhaps in South Korea, where he has lived for a long time and where he has also written a great number of works. Storyline: This is a sweet and happy love story, which presents a vision of the future, through the story of two souls who are separated for twenty-two years in their lives, but who meet again in the afterlife. It is difficult to expect a difficult love story. Most often, love stories only present the trials and differences between two people, and there are those that only have the end product of marriage in the end. In this novel, however, the outcome is not set with the characters meeting, but with the little daughter of the lovers meeting another man who is her father-to-be. Both lovers think that their time for uniting is done, until she appears again, as an adult. Foreword: I, Eka Kurniawan, have no specific story to write about. I have always wanted to become a writer. But not that I'm not good at writing. My writing has a way of making people laugh and feel a little sad. The funny and sad moments of my writing make people smile, and the laughter can change to tears. Why don't I write novels? Because I have no experience to be a real novelist. As a novelist,
